RedStar MultiCup

The resulting cup configuration (patent pending) features pad printing with a smaller ink reservoir thereby saving material costs as well as reducing set-up and clean-up times by using disposable cup liners. The carbide metal doctor ring fits snugly into a recessed groove of the ink cup liner, allowing it to "float" and form a single, integrated unit. The simplicity and convenience will be appreciated by pad printing operators with short production runs and frequent artwork changes.

Note: patent pending ExpressLinners are useable with mechanical and magnetic SpaceFrames as well as mechanical hold-down RedStar multicups. SpaceFrames and RedStar ink cups are available for most Tampoprint pad printing equipment.
